cultural issues, and science-related topics, and I consider Russ Breault's presentation on the Shroud of Turin to be absolutely superb. Mr. Breault

exhibits a thorough understanding of the history, the forensic science, and the apologetic value of this unique artifact, and he delivers his message with passion, insight and humor. It is a captivating presentation, and while he sets forth compelling evidence in support of the Shroud's authenticity, he avoids the kind of unsubstantiated claims that sometimes accompany such presentations. As a Christian historian and apologist, I appreciate Mr. Breault's scholarly approach to the subject as well as the conviction with which he uses this phenomenal artifact to validate the Gospel message of the risen Lord Jesus Christ." Jefrey D. Breshears, Ph.D., The Areopagus Apologetics Forum, Atlanta

style, and most of all-his attitude. His presentation is balanced yet compelling. He has an engaging way of bringing his audience around to asking what he would call "the right questions." Bruce Phillips, Certified Christian Apologetics Instructor—North American Mission Board—Southern Baptist Convention.

A journey where history, religion, archaeology, and science intersect. Objective, detailed, and passionate--Shroud Encounter was by the far the best academic presentation I've seen. Cole Cheek, Ph.D., Professor of History and Anthropology, Spartanburg Methodist College, SC

So powerful, so cohesive, so balanced between rational truth, science, logic, and faith, that I was moved many times. Ken Southgate, Campus Minister, Wesleyan Foundation, Eastern Kentucky University
